A Neil Simon
Retrospective

Join us for these seriously funny films by Neil Simon

Thursday, Feb. 7 at 7:30 PM - "Lost in Yonkers" - In the summer of 1942, two young boys are sent to stay with their stern grandmother and their childlike aunt in Yonkers, New York

Thursday, Feb. 14, at 7:30 PM - "Brighton Beach Memoirs" - Eugene, a young teenage Jewish boy, recalls his memoirs of his time as an adolescent youth. He lives with his parents, his aunt, two cousins, and his brother, Stanley, whom he looks up to and admires. He goes through the hardships of puberty, sexual fantasy, and living the life of a poor boy in a crowded house.

Thursday, Feb. 28 at 7:30 PM - "Biloxi Blues" - in this adaptation of a semi-autobiographical Neil Simon play, young Eugene enlists in the U.S. Army at the end of World War II. He is shipped from his Brooklyn home to basic training in Biloxi, Mississippi. At boot camp, Eugene is antagonized by manic drill instructor and is introduced to adulthood through his experiences with a diverse group of young recruits, a Biloxi beauty, and a local prostitute.

Thursday, March 7 at 7:30 PM - "Broadway Bound" - Eugene and Stanley Jerome try to break into show biz as comedy writers while their parents' marriage ends. When the boys' material is broadcast on radio, the family hears their private life played for laughs.

Light refreshments will be served.

There is no charge for the film series.
